

---

Pass-through authentication using IIS

Posted by DennisW - 2006/02/10 04:54

---

Hello,

I really like your product, however I have one feature that would help us enormously. We have clients in multiple domains who access all our applications in the central domain using a browser. They login to a virtual directory using Windows integrated authentication, providing their username and password (which is different than the account they use to login to XP).

It would be nice if pass-through authentication would work with IIS. I'm not able to set up trusts between the domains and some clients don't even have an NT domain, so using the current pass-through authentication is not an option.

Please let me know if you consider adding this feature, this would also help us to pick your product over WTS or Citrix :-)

Regards,
Dennis

=====