
Windows Border Color

This should be interested to have a fonctionnality that allow changing the window border color of the remote executed application.

Cause some of users use sometime 2 instances of one program, one localy, one via GoGlobal, thus thius is very ambiguous to have two similar windows.

In this way it should be interested to have to possibility to specify the colour or the window border in GoGlobal...

I have changing the display settings in Windows XP but it dont seems to change anything on GoGlobal...

I have successfullly do it on Windows Server 2003 using GPO...
