
Why does running Netmeeting suspend my GO-Global UX session?

Posted by troym - 2003/10/17 11:38

GO-Global UX establishes the size and depth of the X session when the session is started. If the size or depth of the client display is changed while the session is running, the GO-Global client must reinitialize the sessions, which it does by performing an automatic suspend/resume cycle.

Netmeeting adjusts the display settings in a way that causes this to happen.

=====