
Version checking

Posted by Piotr Zborowski - 2008/04/12 03:40

There could be an option (at the server side) to force the clients to check if go-global server version is the same as client version. If it's not then it could show a message box saying that it will not launch because client must be updated.

=====