
Is there a license limitation on a Windows OS?

Posted by Zoogoober - 2008/08/08 13:39

I was wondering if a Go-Global server, running XP SP2 had a maximum number of licenses it could provide to clients. I am referring to the Windows issue with 10 concurrent connections to an XP machine. Thank you.

=====

Re:Is there a license limitation on a Windows OS?

Posted by Erik - 2008/08/08 14:09

You are limited to (and bound by) the Windows OS license restrictions. There is no maximum (or technical) limit on the GO-Global licenses other than hardware resource limits.

=====

Re:Is there a license limitation on a Windows OS?

Posted by Zoogoober - 2008/08/08 14:29

Thank you very much.

=====